

Everyday is Earth Day as Mompreneur Launches ANYWare Collection: Premier Stainless Steel Dishware for Kids

Mom-Invented, Kid-Approved – Living Consciously with Style

Collingwood, ON (April 14, 2010) – Untangled Living announced today the North American launch of its ANYWare Collection, a premier stainless steel dishware for kids. Created as an alternative to plastics and to avoid toxins that may be present in other materials, ANYWare Collection combines practicality and style for any parent with their child's health and the environment in mind.

As an eco-conscious, healthy living, entrepreneur, yoga instructing mother and wife, founder and business owner Sue Volpe is excited to announce the launch of the ANYWare collection and see what she created as a must-have for her children, now available for parents across Canada and the United States.

“As a mother of two, I searched high and low for a healthier alternative to plastic, starting with high-maintenance wooden dishes then experiencing the obvious challenges of glass, I decided there needed to be another option.” said Volpe. “ANYWare Collection is low maintenance, looks great in my kitchen and the kids love it. Most importantly, I can rest assured knowing all parents are closer to eliminating their child's exposure to toxins and reducing waste one dishware at a time. I feel proud to be able to offer this to other parents who are looking for another, lesser plastic, way.”

Health-Conscious, Earth-Friendly & Stylish

- The 5-piece ANYWare set includes a bowl, plate, cup, fork and spoon.
- Made of high quality 18/8, #304 food grade stainless steel.
- Dishwasher safe, stackable and durable.
- Beautiful brush finish and it is available in two etched designs – butterfly and gecko.
- Lifetime guarantee – lifelong solution to waste, wear and tear.

With all the concerns and uncertainty of plastics and other materials, parents and buyers alike can put their minds at ease knowing they have a safe, high quality product that is free of plastics, BPA, PVC, phthalates, lead and other harmful toxins. A perfect gift for any family, and the environment.

The ANYWare Collection, by Untangled Living, is available at speciality retailers and online at www.untangledliving.com for $44.00CAD or $40USD.
